

Alexandria Gazette.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 11, 1908.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 6:57 a. m. and sets at 5:33. High water at 4:15 a. m. and 4:33.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section cloudy and unsettled weather tonight and Wednesday, warmer tonight; winds mostly easterly and light.

STRAY BOY.

Eugene Williams, 11 years old, who claims to be the son of William Williams, chief of police at Phoenix, Va., was turned over to the police last night by Mr. C. W. Wattle, agent for the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company. The youngster had appealed to him for transportation to Norfolk. Young Williams said he arrived in Alexandria with his father last Friday morning, and that they proceeded to Manassas, where Chief Williams took charge of a prisoner. The lad became separated from his father and missed the train and remained at Manassas railway station without food until yesterday morning. He then walked five miles to Clifton, where he was taken aboard a freight train, which brought him to this city. The youth said his home was at 550 Twenty-ninth street, Newport News, and Chief Goods telegraphed to that address. Young Williams spent last night at the home of Chief Goods. The chief this morning received an answer to his dispatch from the mother of the boy. She requested him to hold her son until some member of the family came here.

MARSHALL HOUSE TRAGEDY.
There was a large gathering of Sons of Confederate Veterans and others at Confederate Veterans' Hall last night to listen to Mr. Joseph Padgett's version of the killing of Col. E. E. Ellworth and James W. Jackson early on the morning of May 24, 1861. Mr. Padgett was a witness of the dual tragedy and also a member of the coroner's jury which investigated the killing of Jackson. Mr. Padgett, in a clear and interesting manner, described the details in connection with the killing of Ellworth by Jackson and the death of the latter at the hands of the infuriated Zouaves. Mr. Padgett's address was listened to with close attention by all present.

During the evening remarks were made by Messrs. W. H. May, E. Warfield, Dr. Gorman and others.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

All the preparations for the first annual banquet of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce tonight have been perfected, and all who attend are assured an interesting and delightful evening. The banquet will be held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, on the southeast corner of King and Washington streets, at 8:15 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later will repair to McBurney's Hall, on the opposite corner, where the banquet will be held. The hall has been beautifully and artistically decorated by Mr. J. L. Looze, and Rammel Bros., who will be the caterers, will exercise their culinary skill. There will be about 125 covers. Messrs. W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company; Hon. John Sharp Williams and others will speak on the occasion.

VALENTINE'S DAY.

Valentine's Day is drawing near, but it is being overshadowed in a great degree by preparations for the celebration of Washington's birthday. Some stores are exhibiting specimens of the sentimental variety, while here and there parodies on human nature, some verging on the scurrilous, adorn shop windows. St. Valentine appeals to comparatively few at the present day, and the custom of sending friendly greetings in the shape of tender missives on the 14th of February is gradually declining. Christmas and New Year's cards having in a measure superseded it. But few of the comic varieties are now purchased by adults, their sale being contracted to children.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Dr. A. Barnett-Bully took place this afternoon from Damiano & Son's undertaking establishment. Rev. J. G. Scott conducted the services, and the interment was in Bethel cemetery.

The funeral of the late Edward Horatio Day, who died at his home on south Royal street on Sunday, will take place from the residence tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher and the pallbearers will be Messrs. Thomas McGuire, of Washington; Edgar Warfield, Harry Kirk, August Oshier, William Entwistle, and James H. Thrift, of Baltimore.

THE TWENTY-SECOND.

Preparations for the celebration of Washington's birthday are still in progress. The various committees of the George Washington Birthday Association are still actively at work and they are anticipating everything that can in any way add to the success of the occasion.

The storekeepers are imbibing the spirit of the celebration, and are adorning their windows with articles appropriate for the occasion. Pictures of Washington, his traditional hatchet, flags, fetters, horseshoes, &c., are in evidence in many places.

MIDGETS.

George Midgets, colored, convicted of murder in this city and who is now in the county jail, will be brought to the city jail tomorrow and will be executed early on Friday morning. The scaffold has been erected and will be tested on Thursday, though it is believed that its construction is perfect. Under the law the City Sergeant is allowed to admit twelve witnesses to the execution exclusive of the family and friends of the condemned prisoner. The admission will be by card only.

"OUT-OFF" RE-ESTABLISHED.

The custom of changing locomotives of Southern Railway passenger trains upon their arrival at this place is again in vogue, and the engines, after having been detached from trains a short distance west of this city, are brought to the round house in this city where such repairs as are needed are made. This procedure is known among railroad men as the "cut-off," and proves very satisfactory to most of the engineers whose homes are in Alexandria.

Money can be saved by buying your shoes at Marshall's, 422 King street.

Quinn, of Fredericksburg, is the grand master of the Grand Lodge and will preside over its deliberations. Among the Alexandria Masons who will attend the session are Messrs. J. E. Shino, Thos. A. Fisher, M. L. Dinwiddie, R. W. Arnold, John Graham and O. B. Marshall, and Mr. Ford, master of the Clifton Lodge, will accompany the Alexandrians.

TERRA COTTA WORKS.

Mr. Clyde C. Lamond, of Terra Cotta, D. C., has purchased the Slater property, bordering on the river just north of this city, and has already commenced the erection thereon of a terra cotta manufactory, which will be operated on an extensive scale. The Southern Railway today commenced constructing a spur track into the property and will offer Mr. Lamond and his associates every facility in furthering their new enterprise.

MILDER WEATHER.

The weather became milder yesterday and the temperature last night was in marked contrast to that of the previous twenty-four hours. The weather today has been cloudy and mild. The ice in the river in front of this city is moving and streaks of clear water are seen in many places.

DEATH OF MR. HAINSLIP.

Mr. Thomas Hainslip, who lived in the vicinity of Lorton Valley, Fairfax county, died at the Alexandria Hospital last night. The deceased was 64 years old. He leaves a widow and a son. Mr. Hainslip was a prominent and esteemed resident of this section of the State.
